

Internet Devices

What the Culture Says

1. Internet devices are just another kind of tool and, as such, are morally neutral.
2. These tools help us get our work done more easily and efficiently.
3. Behold, unlimited information is now at your fingertips... only a click away!
4. You can tell the whole world what you think at any given moment!
5. You should “be connected” at all times and in all places! No dead zones!
6. Look at how many friends and followers you can have in the online community!

What Scripture Asks

1. Granted... but we still must not be brought under the power of any thing (1 Cor. 6:12).
2. Maybe... but even if that is the case, hard work is good (Gen 2:15, Prov. 14:23, Ecc. 2:24).
3. OK... but there is a difference between information and wisdom (Job 12:12, Prov. 1:7, 2 Tim. 3:7).
4. But... are your thoughts really worth publishing (Prov. 10:19, Ecc. 5:3)?
5. Connected to what (1 John 2:15-16)? Jesus didn't mind disconnecting (Mark 1:35, 2:27, 6:31).
6. Why then do you feel so alone? What is a true friend (Prov. 18:24) or a true community (Acts 2:40-47)?
